DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-3, 5-9, and 11-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Aung et al. (U.S. 5,791,348). Aung discloses a tight fitting device (10) including a belt having the a length that is enough to be wrapped around a predetermined range of muscles, fastening means for fastening the belt, a gas bag provided in or on the belt, pressure setting means capable of forcing gas into the bag and removing gas from the bag, control means (28) for controlling the pressure setting means, quantification means (30) for quantifying at a position closer to the distal end of a limb than the predetermined range of muscles, a quantification target that is associated with a state of blood flow that varies depending on the compression force, with the control means controlling the pressure setting means based on the quantification target (col. 4-6). As best understood, Aung discloses quantification means adapted to quantify the quantification target at a given instant, and control means capable of controlling pressure setting means over time based on the quantification target at that time instant. Aung disclose a microprocessor which serves as a recording means. Aung further teaches the quantification target being pulse waves. Aung teaches a control system that causes the control means to control the pressure setting means when the quantification target indicates abnormal pulsation.

Aung further teaches the method of providing such a device and receiving quantification target data, a step for generating control data, and a step for sending control data to the pressure segment.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 4 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Aung alone. Aung teaches the claimed invention except multiple tight fitting devices. The feature of a plurality of such devices amounts to a mere duplication of parts, which is well within the realm of the skilled artisan.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-16 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

6. Applicant's submission of an information disclosure statement under 37 CFR 1.97(c) with the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(p) on 04/20/2009 prompted the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 609.04(b). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
